EDITORIAL

On the auspicious occasion of “Sankalp Diwas”, our entire team of Trade Voice wish the new team of office bearers and members of executive committee a successful tenure and hope to see our esteemed organisation in new heights of fame and success under the leadership of our vibrant president Sri E.Siva Prasad Rao.

Our team feels immensely honoured to present you our “Trade Voice” in a completely revamped module thanks to our President and the Team for their guidance and support.

Trade Voice has been the voice of our business community, reaching each and every member on a monthly basis with various legal and trade related updates and amendments, etc including our Chamber related activities.

With an intention to keep up to the tradition, with a new face, more informative and outreach, we are committed to publish it monthly in an 8 paged bulletin. E-Bulletin will be sent to each and every member simultaneously.

We will also publish the recent decisions or activities of various associate organisations in addition to our Chamber activities, in our bulletin.

We also thank our honourable members for their continuous support and assure you to be more informative and updated and reach you on time every month.

Thanking You,
Editor

MESSAGE

I congratulate the new team of office bearers under the leadership of Epari Sivaprasad Rao (Babuli). Hope his new ideas for development of Ganjam Chamber of Commerce will safeguard the interest of the trading community and the society at large.

I wish the team will uphold the glory of this age old institution, as set by its predecessors and lead it to “Be The Best”.

I thank the President and members for the thought of felicitating the new team of office bearers and E.C. members of Odisha Byabasayi Mahasangha, which will be first of its kind.

With warm regards

C. Rabindranath
President,
Odisha Byabasayee Mahasangh

MESSAGE

Dear Editor,

It is a pleasure to learn that Ganjam Chamber of Commerce is hosting an Executive Committee meeting of Odisha Byabasayee Mahasangh on 18th August. While indicating the support of Ganjam Chamber of Commerce to the Mahasangh, this event will also give an opportunity to the members of the chamber to interact with the leaders of the Mahasangh, coming from different parts of Odisha, and know more about the business environment in their respective places.

Also, it gives me pleasure to note that you are going to release the first issue of the new look official bulletin of the Chamber "Trade Voice" on this occasion. I take this opportunity to wish the newly elected President of the Chamber E.Sivaprasad Rao and his team of office bearers all the very best in their endeavour to take Ganjam Chamber of Commerce to new heights in serving the business community. I congratulate you and your team on this occasion.

Yours sincerely,

V V R N Rao,

Vice President,

Odisha Byabasayee Mahasangh

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION TO BE GIVEN WHILE FILING ITR RETURNS FOR AY 19-20

Complete details of buyer to whom you have sold property :

In case of sale of property, the buyer details have to be provided irrespective whether the capital gains accrued are of short-term or long-term in nature.

It is mandatory to deduct TDS if the sale value exceeds Rs 50 lakh. However, "If the sale value exceeds Rs 10 lakh but below Rs 50 lakh then deducting TDS is not mandatory but quoting of PAN of the buyer while filing ITR is mandatory for this year."

Property wise details of rent arrears: If there are any rent arrears that are received by you in FY 2018-19 then you have to report them property wise as received. Remember, if an individual has one house property which is let out during FY 2018-19, then the rent received is required to be reported in ITR-1. While providing details of your one house property in ITR-1, you are required to specify whether the house is - 'Self Occupied', 'Let-out' or 'Deemed Let-out.'

Specifying the type of house property : For individuals with more than one house property, they are required to file their ITR using ITR-2. ITR-1 & ITR-2 has introduced an additional row 'Arrears/Unrealized Rent received during the year less 30%'. While providing details of your one house property in ITR-1, you are required to specify whether the house is - 'Self Occupied', 'Let-out' or 'Deemed Let-out.'

Investment details in Unlisted Companies : If you are holding shares in an unlisted company then, you are required to disclose the details of your holdings in ITR-2. The details required are extensive - name of the company, PAN of the company, number and cost of acquisition at the beginning of the year, number of shares, face value, issue price (or purchase price) and date of purchase of shares acquired during the year, number and sale consideration of shares transferred during the year, number and cost of acquisition of shares held at the end of previous year. This will help the department to check whether income and net worth of a shareholder is in corroboration with the amount invested by him in an unlisted company. If it does not reconcile, the department can initiate the enquiry to verify if some unaccounted money is invested in an unlisted company.

Reporting of salary details gets easier in ITR 1 :

This year providing details of your salary income will be easier as the details required are in sync with the information available in Form-16. In the last year, though taxpayers were required to provide the break-up of salary details, the information required was not in sync with information available in Form-16.

Full disclosure of Interest Income : Along with providing full break-up of salary income, taxpayers will be required to specify the full bifurcation details of the interest income or any other income received by them.

Residential Status : The new ITR-2 form asks individuals not only to specify the residential status as resident, resident but not ordinarily resident or non-resident, but also to provide additional information with respect to his residential status, such as, number of days of stay in India, jurisdiction of his residence and tax identification number in case he is a non-resident. These details are being asked to check if a taxpayer has rightly determined his residential status in India which is entirely based on his number of days of stay in India. The Tax Identification Number will validate if a non-resident taxpayer is rightly claiming the DTAA benefit.

Mention of DIN Number : If you are Director of a company, then you will be required to specify your DIN (Director Identification Number) in ITR-2 or 3 whichever is applicable. Along with this you will also be required to provide information - name of company, PAN, whether shares are listed or unlisted.

"The purpose of seeking DIN no. of directors might be to identify the inactive directors whose qualifications and taxable income does not justify him to remain on board. If a person has been a director of a company but his income over the period had been negligent, it can raise doubt on the purpose for which he was appointed as director in a company."

Other changes introduced in form ITR-3 include disclosure of name and PAN of partnership firms in which the individual taxpayer was a partner during the year, details of audit under any other statutory law. The new form ITR-3 bifurcates the existing profit and loss account into trading account, manufacturing account and profit and loss account which will be applicable for taxpayers who have income from business or profession, etc. The form also seeks details of annual value of outward supplies as per the goods and service tax (GST) returns filed.

As per the new form, individual taxpayers who have presumptive income and also hold directorship in companies or hold shares of unlisted company will not be eligible to file form ITR-4. Such taxpayers will need to file Form ITR 3.

Conclusion:

The new tax disclosure norms are in line with government's resolve to bring in more transparency and increase the tax base. It is imperative that taxpayers should carefully evaluate the information required to be furnished and provide complete details to avoid any unnecessary disputes and litigation at a later stage.
